

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

2. No member shall be entitled to receive a book from the Library until he shall have paid all sums due from him to the Institute.
3. Each member shall have the privilege of using any book from the Library in the Reading Room, though at the same time in possession of a book belonging to the Institute; yet, it will be considered an invariable rule that such book must be resigned to any member drawing it from the Library.
4. Deposited books, and those marked in the Catalogue with an asterisk, together with such others as the board shall from time to time designate as books of reference, shall not be taken from the Rooms except by special permission of the board.
5. A member applying for books, shall receive at a time but one volume if it be folio, quarto, or octavo, (except where the plates belonging to the work are bound in a separate volume, when that also shall be delivered if required,) and but one volume or set, (not exceeding four volumes,) if it be a duodecimo, or volume of less size.
6. A folio or quarto may be detained three weeks; an octavo, or volume of less size, two weeks.

7. 8. If any person loose or injure a book, he shall make the same good to the Librarian ; and if such book be one of a set he shall pay to the Librarian the full value of said set, and may thereupon receive the remaining volumes as his property.

9. All new publications, until they have been in the Library four months, shall be detained as follows :—a folio or quarto but two weeks, and books of less size but one week ; neither of which shall be renewed.

10. The books shall be returned, and the Library closed, one week each year, for the purpose of an examination of the Library. Such week shall commence on the third Monday in March. Holders of all books not returned at the time directed, shall be fined 6½ cents per day for each volume so detained.

11. No book shall be reserved for any director or member.

DUTIES OF THE LIBRARIAN.

2. He shall keep a catalogue of all the books belonging to the Institute, which shall at all times be open to the inspection of members.

3. He shall collect all forfeitures incurred by the members, and pay them over to the Recording Secretary.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE,

Of the City of New-York.

CIRCULAR.

TO THE PUBLIC:—

The following brief account of the origin, progress, present condition, and advantages of this meritorious Institution, is respectfully presented for your calm and mature consideration.

During the winter of 1830-31 its corner stone was laid deep and firm, by a little band of intelligent and philanthropic individuals—pre-eminent among whom, stood PROFESSOR JOHN STEELE of this city,

April 24th, 1833, they procured an Act of Incorporation from the Legislature of this State, and became a duly Chartered Institution, since which period, there has been a steady and gradual increase of members, and as a natural result, the sphere of usefulness of the Society has become greatly enlarged.

This Institution was founded for the purpose of promoting the general diffusion of useful and practical knowledge among the Mechanical Classes, by means of Lectures on Natural and Mechanical Philosophy, and other scientific subjects,—by founding a Library and Museum,—by forming Classes for mutual improvement,—holding Conversational Meetings, Debates, and Discussions for the benefit of its members,—by having from time to time Public Exhibitions for the promotion of excellence in the Mechanical Arts,—and by establishing Schools for educating on the most approved principles, as well as on the most reasonable terms, the Apprentices and Children of its members.

During the brief space of time this Institution has existed, all, and even more has been accomplished, than its deserving founders could reasonably have expected.

A well selected Library is established, containing, at this early day, nearly 3000 volumes, including several of the most rare and valuable publications extant—among which may be found “NAPOLEON'S GREAT WORK ON EGYPT,” esteemed by many, as the greatest and most splendid publication in the world. This truly imperial production, was purchased at a cost of eight hundred dollars, by a few able and liberal individuals belonging to the Institute, and by them most generously deposited in the Library, for the use and benefit of their fellow members.

Connected with the Library, is a Reading Room, amply supplied with the most popular and scientific American and Foreign Periodicals of the day; together with Newspapers, Literary Magazines, &c., from almost every part of the United States, the Canadas, and other places on this Continent where the English language is spoken.

Collections of Minerals, various objects of Natural History, Models of Machinery, with many rare Specimens of Manufactures, &c., have been made as a step towards forming a solid basis on which to erect, as speedily as possible, a valuable Museum.

Lectures upon various important and interesting subjects are delivered in the Lecture Room, generally twice each week, throughout the winter-season,

Conversational Meetings and Debating Classes for the discussion of Mechanical, Philosophical, and other practically scientific matters, are usually convened twice in each week, or oftener, from October to April.

Classes have likewise been formed by the members, for their mutual instruction and improvement in Architectural and Mechanical Drawing, in Mathematics, and in the several other branches, requisite to constitute a skillful and well-educated artisan and tradesman.

Exhibitions for the purpose of bringing together the results of Mechanical Skill and Industry, in order to awaken a spirit of emulation and laudable competition among the Mechanics of our Country, have been held from time to time, and it is designed to continue them as frequent as circumstances will permit.

There is also established in connection with the Institute, according to the original intention, an excellent and flourishing School for male and female pupils.

Minors in the employ of members, also those whose employers are not members, by presenting to the Institute, well executed Models of Machinery, or any really deserving Specimens of Art, of their own production, are rewarded with Medals or Diplomas, or by being allowed the privileges of the Library, Reading Room, Lectures, &c.,—hence Apprentices and other minors have only to exercise a little industry and ingenuity, to become recipients of many of the advantages offered by this Institution.

All Religious and Political topics, likewise all improper personal allusions, are strictly prohibited within the precincts of the Institute.

Strangers and Citizens, having New Inventions which they may desire to lay immediately before the practical portion of our community, especially before the Mechanical Classes, can do so without delay or expense, by calling at the Library and making known their wishes to the Actuary.

The Terms on which persons may become members, and with their families, enjoy all the privileges of the Library, Reading Room, Lectures, Meetings, Debates, Classes, Exhibitions, School, &c., are,—Initiation Fee $1, and a Semi-Annual payment of $1.—Life Membership $16.

In conclusion, we would respectfully invite our fellow-citizens to ponder well on the many useful objects of this Institute. A visit at the rooms of the Society will well repay them for their trouble, and the inducements to become participants in its benefits worthy of consideration.
